

THE WORLD AT 7 BILLION

What It Means for WOMEN and the ENVIRONMENT

Please join the Izaak Walton League of America, the Center for Environment and Population, and the Alliance for Global Conservation with the League of Women Voters-Westchester County for a FREE event to explore:

- The effects of global population growth and resource consumption on wildlife habitat, fisheries, water resources, and climate.
- How women are key allies in the struggle to protect the world's environment and dwindling natural resources.
- U.S. leadership on conservation and development programs worldwide.

This event is open to anyone who wants to learn more!

What: Educational Workshop

Learn how you can take action to promote better resource conservation by raising awareness on issues like sustainable development and population growth. Refreshments will be served.

When: Monday, May 9, 2011
7:30pm – 9:00 pm

Where: White Plains Public Library
100 Martine Avenue
White Plains, New York 10601

For more information and to RSVP, please contact:
Rebecca Wadler-Lase, Izaak Walton League:
(301) 548-0150 x243 or rwadler@iwla.org

Vicky Markham, Center for Environment and Population:
(203) 966-3425 or vmarkham@cepnet.org